Yes, adult items and services are permitted to be auctioned/sold at BidSL's Second Life auction locations that are located in mature rated sims. However, adult only items and services must be located on the upper floor of the auction house only. This special area is designed for the comfort of our users, please be certain to only list your adult items in the appropriate area. BidSL reserves the right to end auctions for adult items placed outside of the designated area. If an auction is terminated for this reason, the rental for the auction unit will not be refunded.
